ture, using his foot without and defense,' Probably wr. Clark thought that, though we may consider it in its natural state, few can ever so behold it, as all horses in civil-ized countries are in greater or less degree brought under artificial conditions. The plea is fallaci us. The horse is clearly intended by nature to serve as a domesti cated animal; and so long as we do not interfere with the proper functions of any part of its body (and the abomination of bearing reins and other such practices in-teriere with them grievously and even facally), we bring them under no conditions which it was not designedly calcula ted to encounter. Private owners and companies whose horses must be nomber ed by troops re naturally irritated by the aecidents c nstantly occurring on smooth and slimy pavements or on rough and hard stone or fint roads and in their disgust they now offer rewards for the invention of a shoe which shall render the horse indifferent to the materials over which ha has to pass, and have clamored for a uniform system of p vements in ail towns. t seems strange indeed that no mig givings seems to cross their minds that they are taking thoughts of the wrong surface, and that they are scared by false terrors when they dread the cont co of the unshod hoof with sand, granite, flint, wood or asphalt. It can not, indeed, be too often repeated or too strongly insisted principles. The Sun believes that the Government which the Constitution gives us is a g of one to keep. Its notion of duty is to resist to its utmost power the efforts of men in the Republican party to set up another form of government in place of that which exists. The year 1881 and the years immediately following will probably decide this supremely important contest. The Sun believes that the victory will be with the people as against the Rings for monopoly, the Rings for plunder, and the Rings for Imperial power.

Since the introduction of this Spool Cotton into the American market, its success has been unprecedented. No other brand of thread has ever met with the same amount of public favor in the same space of time. The "O. N. T." manufacturers were the first to recognize the importance of the Sew-ing Machine and to make a six-cord cotton, which has ever since been the recognized standard for machines. All the improvements in machinery that the inventive genius of the nineteenth cencury has produced have been adapted by the manufacturers of "O. N. T." At all the great International Fairs of the world, "O. N. T." has been awarded the nighest honors.

The "O. N. T." factories at Newark, N. J. and Paisley, Scotland, employ 5,200 opera-tives—make sufficient thread daily to go around the world four times. Consume 140 tons of coal daily.
